Alain Gras

SAINT-ROMAIN BLANC

About Alain Gras

Run by a father and son, Alain Gras is a wine estate in Burgundy, France which has established itself as a reference point producer for the village of Saint-Romain. Burgundy is one of the world's most famous winegrowing regions and is the birthplace of the Pinot Noir and Chardonnay grape varieties, which produce the area's beloved red and white wines, respectively. Exemplifying the character of the land, Alain Gras wines are fresh, fruity, and elegant.

The Wine

- Alain Gras Saint Romain Blanc is a white wine from Burgundy, France made using 100% Chardonnay grapes grown in the village of Saint-Romain.
- Powerful, sophisticated nose with hints of nuts, toast, and vanilla beans.
- Expressive, supple, full, it is delicious with sea bass and shellfish.
