Alejandro Kuscharoff, Winemaker

An agricultural engineer and born into a vintner's family, Alejandro Kuschnaroff studied in Mendoza where he specialized in winemaking. During college he worked as winemaker on a family project. After graduation, he went to the United States to learn about winemaking techniques, working harvests in California. Back home in Argentina, he worked in winemaking and vineyard management at local wineries. In 2012, he joined the Ernesto Catena Vineyards team as winemaker and vineyard manager.
