The Estate

Situated on hillsides and spanning 200 hectares, each parcel of land in Condrieu has its own identity and history. For centuries, the only grape varietal planted in this region is Viognier – growing along the river “where the vines can see the Rhône,” in granite soils and on slopes where work can only be done by hand.

Winemaker Caroline Moro has crafted “Archipel” to represent the best of Condrieu, a wine that is emblematic of its region within the northern Rhône.

The Wine

The grapes are harvested 100% by hand in small crates, pressed immediately, then fermented slowly in stainless steel. They are then aged for 10 to 12 months on fine lees to achieve a balance freshness and complexity.
