

HIGH ALTITUDE WINES FROM THE BEST TERROIR IN ARGENTINA

Our Altitude Series wines are the result of the combination of four key factors:

Soil
Altitude
Vineyard Management
Variety

The search for the varieties that grow best in each part of the vineyard – based on soil and altitude – combine with vineyard management and winemaking decisions that allow us to express the terroir effect in these high-altitude wines*.*

TERROIR EFFECT

DOÑA PAULA
ALTITUDE SERIES

ALTITUDE SERIES

1050

Ugarteche
Luján de Cuyo

2022 Vintage

85% CABERNET SAUVIGNON

15% MALBEC

This wine stands out for its expressive and seductive aromas, combining notes of blackberry and cherry with black pepper, coffee, tobacco leaves, and cocoa. On the palate, it is a wine with good body and subtle freshness, velvety texture, and a persistent finish.

92 PTS. JAMESSUCKLING.COM

1100

San Carlos
Uco Valley

2023 Vintage

70% MALBEC

30% SYRAH

Malbec and Syrah are blended to create this complex and balanced wine with a deep violet color. On the nose are floral aromas – such as violet and rosehip – which are typical of Malbec. The Syrah contributes spicy notes, a textured mouthfeel and silky tannins – while the Malbec adds structure.

91 JAMESSUCKLING.COM

93 Pts. Tim Atkin

1350

Gualtallary
Uco Valley

2024 Vintage

85% CABERNET FRANC

15% MALBEC

This wine displays a deep violet color and great aromatic complexity, with prominent spicy, floral, and red fruit notes. On the palate, it is persistent, with pronounced tannins and a long finish.

