

QUESTION

What is the condition?

1. The object is a long, slender, curved bone, possibly a rib or a part of the spine, with a small hook-like structure at one end.

ANSWER

The condition is a rib fracture.

The rib fracture is a common injury, often caused by trauma or a fall. It is characterized by pain and tenderness over the fracture site. The fracture may be visible on a chest X-ray.