

QUESTION

1. The following diagram illustrates the structure of a company. The company is organized into three main divisions: Division A, Division B, and Division C. Each division has its own set of departments and sub-departments.

