

KNOWLEDGE

Process	Definition	Example
Cognition	Thought processes that involve perception, attention, memory, and problem-solving.	Remembering a phone number, solving a math problem.
Affect	Emotional states and feelings that influence thought and behavior.	Feeling happy, sad, or angry.
Emotion	A complex psychological state that involves both cognitive and affective components.	Love, fear, and anger.