

The diagram illustrates two chemical structures of a polymer chain, enclosed in a rectangular box. The top structure is labeled "Side chains" and shows a main chain with several side chains branching off. The bottom structure is similar but has a different side chain configuration. The diagram is enclosed in a rectangular box.