

APPROXIMATE

100
100

Weight	Distance	Force
100	100	100
100	100	100

100
100

A large diagram illustrating a human arm as a lever. The elbow is the fulcrum. The hand holds a weight. Various labels and arrows indicate forces, distances, and angles. The diagram is divided into several sections, possibly representing different parts of the arm or different types of movements.