

Read the passage.

Everyone needs a place to live. Houses keep people safe. They protect people from rain and snow. They are cool places away from the hot sun. People cook and eat inside houses. People sleep there, too. Houses keep people safe from animals.

People live in different places. Some places in the world are hot deserts. Others are rainy forests. Many people live by the sea or high up in cold mountains.

The houses that people build are different, too. Some people use rocks to build their houses. People who live in a forest cut down trees. They build houses out of wood. In very cold places, people make houses out of ice and snow.

Some people move from place to place. They set up tents and take them down. They carry their homes with them.

Tip

Think about how sentences go together. One sentence might tell what happened. Another might tell why it happened.

Choose the word that completes each sentence.

- 1 People are safe inside their ■.
- 2 In a hot desert, people's houses keep them ■.
- 3 In a rainy place, a person can stay ■ inside a house.
- 4 A house in a very cold place may be made of ■.
- 5 In forests, houses may be made of ■.
- 6 Sometimes ■ are used to make good houses.
- 7 People cook and ■ inside their houses.
- 8 People's houses keep ■ from getting inside.
- 9 Houses are ■ around the world.
- 10 Some people travel and do not stay in one ■.
- 11 A ■ is a house that is easy to carry from place to place.
- 12 No matter where people live, ■ needs a house.

A	B	C	D	E	F
everyone	animals	different	dry	eat	place
G	H	I	J	K	L
cool	rocks	tent	wood	houses	ice

Objective: Describe the connections between ideas or pieces of information in a text.

