

1. The number of people in the workforce has increased steadily over the period shown.

2. The number of people in the workforce was approximately 60 million in 1980 and rose to about 100 million by 2000.

3. The rate of increase was relatively constant throughout the period.

NEWSTON

1. The number of people in the workforce has increased steadily over the period shown.

2. The number of people in the workforce was approximately 60 million in 1980 and rose to about 100 million by 2000.

3. The rate of increase was relatively constant throughout the period.