

Study Area
 The study area is located in the south-east of England, near the coast. It covers an area of approximately 10 km². The study area is bounded by the coast to the south and the town of Kingston to the north. The study area is divided into several sub-areas, each with its own characteristics. The study area is divided into several sub-areas, each with its own characteristics.

KINGSTON

Study Area
 The study area is located in the south-east of England, near the coast. It covers an area of approximately 10 km². The study area is bounded by the coast to the south and the town of Kingston to the north. The study area is divided into several sub-areas, each with its own characteristics.