

A rectangular bar of length L , width b , and height h is subjected to a tensile force P applied at both ends. The bar is divided into two equal segments of length $L/2$. The displacement of the free end is denoted by δ .

