

Figure 1. Schematic of the experimental design. The stimulus (red arrow) is presented to the subject, who responds (blue arrow). The response is compared to the target (green arrow), and the subject receives feedback. The learning curve shows the amount of learning over time. The y-axis is labeled 'Learning' and the x-axis is labeled 'Time'.