

Figure 1: A technical drawing of a rectangular object with a grid pattern on its front face. The drawing includes a front view, a side view, an isometric view, and a bottom view. The object has a grid pattern on its front face, consisting of three vertical columns and three horizontal rows. The top edge is slightly recessed, and there are small circular features at the corners of the top edge.