USE & CARE INSTRUCTIONS

SINK CARE AND MAINTENANCE

- Use water at a temperature between 32 °F and 140 °F to clean the sink. Directly poured boiled water may cause the ceramic body to crack.
- If there are stains left on the sink, rinse it immediately with clean water and wipe it with a clean cloth to prevent sink from damage.
- Prevent hard projects from directly impacting the surfaces of the product.
- Do not clean the ceramic products with steel brush or a scouring pad and the like, which may damage the ceramic surfaces.
- Do not use drastic or corrosive detergents to clean the sink, which may damage the surfaces of ceramic body.
- Use neutral detergents to clean sink once a week at least.

CONSOLE LEGS CARE AND MAINTENANCE

- The surface hardness is relatively high, but it can still be scratched by sharp objects. In daily use, try to avoid using steel wool balls, sharp knives, etc. To vigorously scratch its surface, so as not to damage the protective film on the surface and affect its aesthetics and corrosion resistance.
- Be careful when placing items to prevent other metal items or hard items from colliding and rubbing against stainless steel products.
- Avoid allowing stainless steel products to come into long-term contact with corrosive substances such as acids, alkali, and salts. If accidentally in contact, rinse thoroughly with clean water in a timely manner and dry it.
