

The diagram illustrates the life cycle of a plant, showing the stages from seed to maturity and back to seed. The labels A through Z represent different components and processes involved in the plant's growth and survival.

FACTFILE

This section provides a detailed look at the plant's growth and the factors that influence it. The labels A through Z represent different components and processes involved in the plant's life cycle.