

This drawing shows a shaft with a diameter of 10 mm. The shaft has a length of 100 mm. The shaft is made of steel and is used for transmitting torque. The shaft is shown in a perspective view. The drawing includes a small inset showing a detail of a thread or hole.

ASSEMBLY

These drawings show two bolts. The bolts have a diameter of 10 mm and a length of 100 mm. They are made of steel and are used for fastening. The bolts are shown in a perspective view.