

ANATOMY

45

46

1. The thumb is the only digit that is not attached to the hand by a common bone. It is the only digit that is not attached to the hand by a common bone. It is the only digit that is not attached to the hand by a common bone.

2. The index finger is the second digit from the thumb. It is the only digit that is not attached to the hand by a common bone. It is the only digit that is not attached to the hand by a common bone.