

Figure 1. The Yangtze River basin. The map shows the river's course, major cities, and surrounding regions. The Yangtze River is depicted as a thick black line winding through the region, with numerous tributaries. Major cities are marked with black squares, and smaller towns with black dots. The map also shows the coastline and surrounding landmasses.