

Figure 1.2.100

Figure 1.2.100 shows a cross-section of a structure with a central vertical column and a sloped roof structure. The structure is supported by a foundation. The diagram illustrates the geometry and dimensions of the structure, including the height of the column, the slope of the roof, and the width of the base.

Figure 1.2.100