

QUESTION (PLUMB)

A small metal paperclip is suspended vertically from a fixed point. The paperclip is shown in two positions: a vertical position and a horizontal position. The horizontal position is shown with a dashed line indicating the original vertical position. The horizontal position is shown with a solid line indicating the new position. The horizontal position is shown with a dashed line indicating the original vertical position. The horizontal position is shown with a solid line indicating the new position.

