

KBRASS
KBRASS is a non-profit organization that provides financial assistance to low-income families in the form of a monthly cash stipend. The program is designed to help families cover basic needs such as food, housing, and utilities. It is a temporary measure to provide relief during difficult economic times.
The program is funded by the state of California and is available to eligible families in the state. Families must meet certain income and asset requirements to qualify for the program. The stipend amount varies based on the number of children in the household and the family's income level.
KBRASS is a valuable resource for families in need of financial assistance. It provides a direct and effective way to support low-income families and help them meet their basic needs. The program is a key component of California's social safety net and is an important tool for addressing poverty and economic hardship.
