

Let C be a simple closed curve in the plane. Then C divides the plane into two regions: the interior of C and the exterior of C .

Let D be a domain in the plane. Then D is a region if and only if D is a simple closed curve.