

The lamp is designed to provide focused lighting for reading or work. It features a simple, functional design with a rectangular shade and a circular base. The lamp is shown in a three-quarter view, highlighting its overall form and proportions.

TABLE

The table is a simple, rectangular design with four legs. It is shown in a three-quarter view, emphasizing its clean lines and functional structure.

(continued)

The drawing shows a desk lamp and a table, both rendered in a simple, functional style. The lamp has a rectangular shade and a circular base, while the table is a basic rectangular design with four legs.