Assembly

STEP 1

Insert the stakes into the holes on each base. Once the stakes (or hubs) have been inserted into the holes the portable bases are ready for play.

Playing Instructions

GAME SETUP:

Find an open area away from home furnishings, sprinkler heads or anything that could be damaged or tripped on.

Bases should be set at a distance that is fun for the skill level of the players. The pitching distance for competitive steel quoits is 21 feet. For rope quoits 18 feet between hubs is a recommended pitching distance for competitive play. When pitching rope quoits both feet should be behind the front edge of the base.

2 or 4 players can play a game of quoits with games played to 21 (winning by two). An 11-0 score is considered a shutout which ends the game early. Matches are generally the best 2 out of 3 games.

Points are scored as follows:

1 Point: quoit lands on the base. The quoit must land inside the edge of the base. If the quoit is just touching the outer edge of the base no points are awarded.

1 Point: leaner. This is more common in steel quoits but is also possible with rope quoits. When it does, one point is awarded.

3 Points: ringer. Pitching your quoit over the hub is worth 3 points. If that same “player” tops the ringer 6 points are awarded for the second ringer (9 points for that frame). Three ringers in a row is another 6 points (and you should probably move the hubs further apart!)

Net Scoring Option:

Points may be totaled in each frame and added to each player's total score or games can be played with “net scoring” meaning that only extra points in a frame are scored. For instance, if Player 1 pitches a ringer (+3) and Player 2 lands two quoits on the base (+2), player 1 would score 1 point for that frame and player 2 would score none.
