ESTABLISHED 1973

BRAND STORY

At Albertoni, the table is everything. It is a place where laughter rises, plates are never empty, and wine is inseparable from the act of gathering. This spirit comes from our Italian roots, where meals are never rushed and family is defined as much by who you welcome in as by who you are born to.

Our story begins with Severino Albertoni, whose name means “servant of the vine.” For him, tending the land was an act of devotion, a way of nurturing both vines and community. That legacy carried across the ocean to California, where three generations of our family have worked the sun-kissed vineyards and crafted wines made to bring people together. Every bottle of Albertoni is a seat at the table, a reminder that life tastes fuller when shared and that the best families are built glass by glass, story by story, meal by meal.
