“We recently had the unfortunate challenge of dealing with a tricky stifle wound following Red Hills International Horse Trials in early March.

Luckily, we had some of Absorbine's Silver Honey Rapid Wound Repair on hand. Stifle injuries can always be cumbersome due to the difficulty in icing them, the inability to wrap them, and the movement involved in the joint which causes a wound in that area to re-open easily.”

“As you can see from the photos, the healing process of this stifle injury was quick and measurable.

Our super groom, Jess Allanson, iced the injury several times during the first 24 hours, and then began applying the Silver Honey Rapid Wound Repair 48 hours after the injury happened, applying it twice daily, and making sure to keep the stifle area clean by washing it with gentle soap and water once a day.

Jess continued applying this wonderful product twice a day for 12 days, and as the photos clearly show, the progress in the healing of the wound was unprecedented. After dealing with many stifle injuries throughout my career, I must say that this has been one of the easiest ones in terms of recovery time.”

“We are true believers in this product and would absolutely recommend adding it to your medical kit!”
