Care and use

To safely collapse the airer, grasp the top and unclip one side while maintaining your hold on the top as you unclip the other side, gradually pushing it to the ground. To prevent damage and enhance the longevity of the airer, we advise adhering to the following care and usage guidelines: do not move the airer when it is laden, and refrain from dragging it, as this may impose unnecessary strain on the legs. Always load the airer evenly, commencing with the lower bars, and take care not to overload it. It is important to distribute weight evenly across the structure and to use the airer exclusively indoors.
