Additional Information

To meet the requirements of the Kitemark scheme for a 'master key system', the system must not reduce the number of available key combinations below the minimum specified in EN 1303, nor fall short of the stipulations outlined in BS 3621, BS 8621, or BS 10621. Compliance is only recognised for finished products manufactured at the designated factory covered by the Kitemark Certificate. Furthermore, the master keyed suite must be designed in such a way that it does not compromise any anti-manipulation features.
