A Note From Our Founder

There's a particular kind of summer I grew up on. The screen door that never quite closed. The long table pulled out under the trees. The porch chair that created a sense of calm, whether you were sitting in it or not.

That kind of summer was easy. The furniture held up through the rain and the sun, and was ready again by morning. People gathered, and then gathered again the next weekend. Everyone settled in. Stayed awhile.

More than 30 years ago, we set out to build furniture for that kind of summer. Pieces you don't have to worry about, so you can spend yours on what actually matters: the people you love, lingering a little longer than they meant to.

Here's to a summer well spent, and the memories that come with it.

The Set That Stays Set

Weather, Welcomed

Rain, sun, humidity, salt air: Your set shrugs all of it off and looks the same in October as it did in May.

Always Set for Company

Drop-in dinners, last-minute lunches, a glass of wine after work: There's no setup because nothing was ever put away.

Cleans With a Garden Hose

A quick rinse is the entire maintenance routine. No oils, no covers, no seasonal sanding.

Built to Stay Put

Heavy enough to hold its place through a summer storm, designed to look good (right where you left it) for years to come.
