Care and use

Before first use, it is essential to hand-wash the cookware thoroughly. This cookware is suitable for use on hobs only, including induction hobs. For optimum energy efficiency, ensure the cookware is placed on hob rings that correspond to its base size, and avoid allowing flames to overlap the sides or handles. To prolong the life of your cookware, it is recommended to use silicone, wooden, or nylon utensils, and to avoid overheating or allowing it to boil dry. Never leave the cookware unattended while in use, as the non-stick coating may discolour, although this will not affect its functionality. To prevent damage to ceramic hobs, always lift the cookware instead of dragging it across the surface. Please note that screws may loosen over time; if so, carefully retighten them with a screwdriver. For cleaning, allow the cookware to cool completely before proceeding. It is safe for dishwasher use with mild detergents, but hand-washing with a mild detergent and a non-abrasive sponge is also recommended. Rinse and dry the cookware thoroughly, and do not store it while wet. Always use heat-resistant oven gloves when handling the cookware and avoid exposing hot items to cold liquids. If any damage is evident, dispose of the cookware carefully.
