Care and use

Before first use, it is essential to hand-wash the cookware thoroughly. This cookware is suitable for use on hobs only, including induction, and for optimum energy efficiency, it is best to place it on hob rings that match the size of its base. Care should be taken to prevent flames from overlapping the sides or handles. To enhance the longevity of the cookware, it is recommended to use silicone, wooden, or nylon utensils, and to avoid overheating or allowing it to boil dry. Moreover, never leave the cookware unattended while in use. Although the non-stick coating may be prone to discolouration, this does not affect its functionality. When using ceramic hobs, always lift the cookware instead of dragging it across the surface to avoid damage. Additionally, screws may loosen over time; it is advisable to retighten them carefully with a screwdriver if necessary. For cleaning and storing the cookware, allow it to cool completely before cleaning. The cookware is dishwasher safe with mild detergents; however, hand-washing with a mild detergent and a non-abrasive sponge, followed by thorough rinsing and drying, is recommended. Ensure that you do not store the cookware while it is still wet. Use heat-resistant oven gloves whenever moving the cookware, and avoid exposing hot cookware to cold liquids. If there is any evidence of damage to the cookware, please dispose of it carefully.
