

Geographical Information Systems

Geographical Information Systems (GIS) are computer systems that capture, store, manipulate, analyze, and display spatial data.

--	---

GIS applications include urban planning, environmental management, and transportation analysis.

LINGSTON

Map scale: 1:50,000