Care and use

Please retain these instructions for future reference. Before using the cookware for the first time, it is essential to hand-wash it thoroughly. This cookware is designed for use on hobs only, including induction. For optimum energy efficiency, place the cookware on hob rings that correspond to the base size, ensuring flames do not overlap the sides or handles. To extend the life of your cookware, it is advisable to use silicone, wooden, or nylon utensils. Avoid overheating the cookware or allowing it to boil dry; once the thermal indicator changes colour, reduce the heat to maintain the desired temperature. Always supervise the cookware while in use and note that the non-stick coating may discolour over time, which does not impact its performance. When using ceramic hobs, lift the cookware rather than dragging it to prevent damage. As screws may loosen over time, periodically check and retighten them with a screwdriver if necessary. After cooking, allow the cookware to cool before cleaning, as it is not dishwasher safe; instead, hand-wash using a mild detergent and a non-abrasive sponge, then rinse and dry it thoroughly. Never store wet cookware, and always use heat-resistant oven gloves when handling hot items. Avoid exposing hot cookware to cold liquids, and if any damage is evident, dispose of the item carefully.
