DISTILLERY HDP High Definition Porcelain™

From the handmade charred white oak barrels to the towering racks of the decades old rickhouses comes the inspiration for Florida Tile's Distillery^{HDP} wood collection. Like the smooth, soft finish of a 20-year-old single batch bourbon, it creates a mood of cool sophistication. The warmth of the natural oak lives on through the centuries with the strength and durability of the harvested planks. Combined with a spirit that is simple, clean, and modern, these elements work together as one tangible unit.

Starting with a graphic almost completely devoid of knots, the concept was born. A wide-open pattern, linear but with some contrast in variation, became a contemporary vision. Distillery^{HDP} is the future of wood look porcelain. The surface is a natural matte finish with a delicate punch and minimal pitting that features a mild texture to compliment the grain. Pressed in an 8x48 format, Distillery^{HDP} brings the large-scale concept up-to-date with natural wood planks in the market.

The color palette is on-trend with three bold shades of grey, from warm to cool to dark- Spirit, Barley, and Proof, the target is thoroughly modern. Even the more traditional tones of light and dark brown – Wheat and Malt, are given the slightest gray flair to work within the line. A unique large format hexagon patterned twist mosaic provides an interesting decorative highlight.

Distillery^{HDP} glazed porcelain floor and wall tile is appropriate for residential and commercial wall, countertop, backsplash, and most floor applications. It is GREENGUARD® and Porcelain Tile Certified and meets the new DCOF AcuTest® requirements to be installed in wet areas.
