NATURAL COLLECTION

The Natural Collection brings premium sound into harmony with the materials that make a space feel alive. Handcrafted wood and woven fabric grilles are more than a design choice, they are a connection to the elements that studies show ease stress, sharpen focus, and restore a sense of calm indoors. Every speaker in this collection is engineered to blend naturally into the room the way nature does - quietly, texturally, completely. The result is a rich listening experience paired with a living environment filled with sound, wrapped in materials that make the space feel healthier the moment you walk in. This isn't audio that sits on top of a room, it's audio that becomes part of it. Premium Sound. Natural Materials. A Healthier Atmosphere.

BRINGING THE BENEFITS OF THE OUTDOORS INDOORS

Natural fibers like linen and wood have long been favored in speaker construction for their acoustic properties. Linen's woven structure dampens unwanted resonances while remaining lightweight. Wood's cellular composition naturally absorbs and diffuses sound rather than reflecting it harshly. The Natural Collection is composed of handcrafted wood and premium woven fabrics to support the natural warmth and wellness benefits that homeowners desire. The collection contributes to the acoustic and physical well-being of the space.

NATURAL AUDIO PROCESSING

The human brain processes analog sound waves continuously, as they mirror the natural acoustic signals we evolved to hear. These uninterrupted sound waves engage auditory processing with less cognitive fatigue than digital audio. Digital sound, while highly accurate, reconstructs audio through rapid sampling that can introduce subtle artifacts the brain must unconsciously reconcile.

Modern Digital Signal Processing (DSP) bridges this gap by mathematically modeling the warmth and harmonic complexity of analog signals. Sonance PowerZone Connect and UA amplifiers provide exceptional signal processing and natural detail when paired with Natural Collection speakers and subwoofers. Design the right Natural Collection solution to suit the space and desired experience.
